

David Grimes is a director with PwC's Tax practice. For over thirteen years, Mr. Grimes has provided tax provision, compliance, and consulting services to public and private companies in various industries for SEC reporting, tax provision preparation, and assisting with income tax material weakness remediation and effective tax rate planning under US GAAP. He earned his BBA and MPA from The University of Houston. The three accounting professionals will have an enlightened conversation on the new hot topic of Energy Production Tax Credits. KPMG will address the Financial Reporting side, and PwC will speak on the Tax Side.